

Has completed the eLearning module

AIRWAY ASSISTANCE IN THE EMERGENCY DEPARTMENT

The learning outcomes of this module are to be:

- able to describe the steps and sequence of events of a rapid sequence induction of anaesthesia (RSI)
- familiar with the equipment used during RSI
- able to prepare for an RSI
- able to apply cricoid pressure
- able to describe the additional steps and modifications required for patients with a suspected cervical spine injury.

Dr Peter Hersey
Consultant – Critical Care & Anaesthesia
City Hospitals Sunderland NHSFT